Humour:

Bill & Shirley are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.
 "Shirley, I was wondering—have you ever cheated on me?"
 "Oh, Bill, why would you ever ask such a question now. You don't want to ask that question..."
 "Yes Shirley, I really need to know"
 "Well alright, 3 times."
 "Three! When were they?"
 "Well, you remember when you were 35 years old and you really wanted to start your own business but no bank would give you loan. Remember how one day the bank president himself came over to the house and signed the loan papers. No questions asked".
 "Oh, Shirley, you did that for me, I respect you even more. When was the second time?"
 "Well Bill, remember when you had your heart attack and no surgeon would touch you because of the complications. Remember how Dr Johnson came all the way up here, to do the surgery himself, and then you were in good shape".
 "Cannot believe it Shirley. I love that you should do such a thing for me, to save my life. You must really love me. I couldn't be more moved. When was number 3?"
 "Well Bill, remember a few years ago, when you wanted to be president of the golf club and you were 15 votes short".
